AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Common Clay," at Opera House To-day, Pleased St. Johnsbury.

The St. Johnsbury Caledonian of Nov. 24 had the following about "Common Clay," which comes to the Barre opera house this afternoon and evening:

"The three-act drama, 'Common Clay,' presented at the Colonial theatre Thursday evening played before a large and well pleased audience. If it had not been for the inclement weather the company would have played to a capacity house, as it well deserved to do.

"Belle Mitchell as Ellen Neal was ably supported in the play by Eugene Desmond and Frank M. Readick as well as by the rest of an exceedingly uniform cast.

"From the high-class production with which the management of the Colonial has opened the season in St. Johnsbury, it is certain that the theatre patrons will look forward to the remaining bookings of the season."

Jere McAuliffe Co. Next Week.

The Jere McAuliffe Musical company, one of the best musical comedy organizations appearing at popular prices, is booked to open a week's engagement at the Barre opera house Monday afternoon. Jere McAuliffe, the noted Celtic star, heads his own company, of 17 clever, all-star entertainers. There will be an entire change of program daily and each production will be complete, as a carload of special scenery and properties is carried.

Q., where he has been visiting friends for several days. He will visit friends on Ayers street for a while before leaving for his home in Woodville, N. H. Mr. Warner intends to return to Saskatchewan after spending the winter at his home.

William Milne and Charles Connor, who have been along Worcester mountain since the deer hunting commenced, returned to Barre yesterday. Other members of the party accompanied them returned two or three days ago. The only one lucky enough to get a deer was Dante Peduzzi, who brought a buck back to Barre at the first of the season. To-day Messrs. A. C. Jones, A. A. Lamorey and Clinton Taylor left for the camp and will remain on a deer hunting expedition during the coming week.

At Cobble Hill grange Nov. 21, the third and fourth degrees of the order were conferred, followed by a harvest supper. Several visitors were present from Capital City and Orange granges. There was a memorial service for Mrs. Minnie Whitcomb. The literary program was very short, consisting of songs by the grange and a well-written paper by Mrs. Rona Thurston. Central Vermont Pomona grange will meet with Cobble Hill grange Thursday, Dec. 7. Dec. 5 the grange will elect officers for the coming year. Let each member show his interest by coming to this meeting and voting for whoever he thinks will give best service in the office he is elected to hold. The secretary will be at the hall early to meet all who wish to pay dues and so get the books in good shape for the coming year.

A big touring car, said to be owned by a man named Barber of Windsor, slid over a bank on Wolcott hill in Williams-town gulf Thursday afternoon, as it was southbound. The car contained Mr. and Mrs. Barber and two children, and a deer which Mr. Barber had shot while hunting in the northern part of the state. As the brakes were applied, the rear end of the machine slewed toward the opposite side of the road, went over the bank into a tree, which stopped it from dropping several feet into the brook at this point in the highway. Assistance was called from a nearby farm house and with several men working for about three hours, the machine was hauled up the bank and into the road. After the automobile was hauled into the road, it was found that it was not damaged very badly and the party was able to go on to their home in Windsor without stopping for repairs. All the occupants remained in their seats and none were injured in the least. The grade at this place is quite steep and with the snow and ice, it is almost impossible to drive down the hill without slewing either to one side or the other of the road.

Some Thanksgiving Day Thoughts

We want to give special thanks to our customers for the help they have given us during the past year in bettering the quality of our merchandise. Our merchandise and service has been getting better all the time. This improvement is due to our customers as much as to our own standard of merchandising. They have been demanding better goods. They have proved to us conclusively that they appreciate good quality and workmanship.

Nothing has encouraged us more than the orders that have come to us, from customers that know style and value, asking us to use our own judgment as to style and quality.

For words of praise, for the encouragement they have given, as well as the substantial business given us, we give them thanks. We like to hear customers say "we expect more of you than any other house we trade with". To satisfy those who demand the best is our constant aim and purpose.

Ladies' Tailored Suits

We are putting prices on a lot of the season's best Tailored Suits that should appeal to those who want a good, dresy garment for the winter and early spring wear. We have some Sample Suits in the high-class models, Suits that you can buy and feel that you have an advanced style, rather than something that has passed and gone.

These Suits are cut on the straight plaited shape lines and from cloths that are new and different. These are not fancy cut Suits, but on lines that will be carried into the spring models.

If you are interested in Suits at around $18.00 and $20.00, you should see these Suits. They are values that will please you, as they are made for warmth as well as for service. Many of them are flannel-lined.

In the better grade Suits at from $25.00 to $35.00, we can offer you values that will be hard for you to duplicate in style as well as for service.

These are Suits that we cannot duplicate in quality or price, and the styles are the season's best, and when you see the spring styles you will realize what we mean when we say the styles will be similar to the spring models. See these Suit values.

The deer arrived in the city Friday afternoon and were viewed with admiration by a knot of bystanders gathered at the Central Vermont station. With the exception of one large buck which possessed a handsome set of antlers, all the deer were of average size.
